body uses to make you turn over at night. "In 70 per cent of the cases," said Dr. Riggs, "I can tell what side a person sleeps on by examining his nose. Really. "A person is directed by his nose to turn over every hour or so. One side of the nose takes it easy while the other side takes over the task of doing most of the breathing. If you sleep on one side more than the other it will show up in your nose."

State Secretary Says Price of Failure To Be Distruction

WASHINGTON (AP)-Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today austerity and sacrifice, perhaps for generations ahead, will be required to counter the economic-military growth of communism

"We may face a period even harder than we have become used to," he said.

The secretary, in a statement to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, declared: "The price of failure would be the destruction of all our national objectives. We must press on with courage to build surer foundations for the interdependent world community of which we are a part.

"This will call for austerity and sacrifice on the part of all.' Dulles told the committee U.S. foreign policy has three basic purposes: To block aggressive force, to promote human dignity and freedom, and to stimulate economic growth and interdependence.

"These goals are not attainable in a few years, but will require decades and perhaps even generations."

Dulles said the primary threat is the rapid economic and industrial growth of Red China and the Soviet bloc through forced labor. The United States must stand firm in the face of Communist threats and probings, he said, and make "whatever unusual sacrifices may be necessary." Dulles was the first of a group of diplomatic and military officials that the senators plan to hear in a series of sessions devoted to study of free world problems in The Senate group is holding its hearings behind closed doors, but the State Department released copies of a prepared statement Dulles took to the meeting. Dulles said that in the long run Communist rulers will encounter increasing difficulties from peoand other Allies to agree on some icy, or a new decision to stand ples balking against dictatorial "But for the short run-and this may be a period of years-the situation is full of danger," he said. In seeking world order, the secretary said, the United States must try to eliminate the use of force, or threat of its use, by all nations in their dealings with He said Russia now is trying to expel Western troops from West Berlin. He called the troops "an indispensable safeguard to the freedom of that city.'

"We have made clear our willingness to negotiate about the German question," Dulles said. He denied that U.S. foreign policy consists mainly of reacting to Communist initiatives - a contention sometimes made by critics. "Nothing could be farther from the truth," he said.

He added that the U.S. efforts are done quietly but steadily through the United Nations, the Atlantic Pact and other groupings while "aggressive probings of ":e Communists are spectacular and attention-grabbing."

State Secretary Says Price of Failure To Be Distruction

WASHINGTON (AP)-Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today austerity and sacrifice, perhaps for generations ahead, will be required to counter the economic-military growth of communism.

"We may face a period even harder than we have become used to," he said.

The secretary, in a statement to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, declared: "The price of failure would be the destruction of all our national objectives. We must press on with courage to build surer foundations for the interdependent world community of which we are a part.

"This will call for austerity and sacrifice on the part of all."

Dulles told the committee U.S. foreign policy has three basic purposes: To block aggressive force, to promote human dignity and freedom, and to stimulate economic growth and interdepend-

"These goals are not attainable in a few years, but will require decades and perhaps even generations."

Dulles said the primary threat is the rapid economic and industrial growth of Red China and the Soviet bloc through forced labor. The United States must stand firm in the face of Communist threats and probings, he said, and make "whatever unusual sacrifices may be necessary." Dulles was the first of a group of diplomatic and military officials that the senators plan to hear in a series of sessions devoted to study of free world problems in

"Nothing could be farther from

"It is regrettable that Castro is executing these gentlemen with-out real trials," said Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind).

Capehart, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and its Latin American Affairs subcommittee, told a reporter:

"These (executions) appear to be the actions of a dictator or someone demanding revenge. It is a poor way to try to win support and confidence of the public."

Another member of the same subcommittee, Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt), said if the new regime continues widespread executions it "can lose a great deal of public support."

A. Darkening of the skin is not uncommon after injection treat-ment for varicose veins. The discoloration tends to fade with time. However, if the skin is still discolored after six months or so, it is not likely that the spot will disappear completely. A dermatologist (skin doctor) might be consulted about the possibility of improving the condition.

Q. "According to school authorities, our 8-year-old son can't learn. Is there any point in keeping him in school?"—

A mother. A. Your son should be given a complete examination by a physician. There may be several reasons why he "can't learn." He may have poor eyesight or hear-ing or be afflicted in some other way that can be helped. If the doctor should find that medical treatment is not indicated, don't close the door to possible progress by taking away all opportu-nity for training. There may be good arguments against keeping slow-learners in public schools but some type of training pro-gram should be provided. Men-tal authorities have said that retarded children may profit rades. This doesn't mean that all retarded children can im-prove. Even those who do advance may not become com-pletely adequate adults but as least they will not be entirely dependent and socially useless It seems strange, said one Pro-fessor of Education, that greater efforts have not been made to provide mentally retarded chil-dren with long-range educational programs. In fact, society seems to have done a good job in denying them opportunities.

Steel mills are operating at only 75 per cent of estimated capacity. The auto industry could build many more cars if there were demand for them. But much of the slack has been taken up since the bottom of the recession. U. S. reserves of productive power are quite limited in some lines and non-existent in others.

"Government is hampered by shortages," says the First National City Bank of New York in its January news letter. "To take a vivid example, intense effort and countless millions of dollars have not vet succeeded in sending a single rocket to the moon. If the armed services wanted more battleships and wheeled vehicles, there is capacity at steel mills, shipyards and auto plants to build them.

"But the armed services want other, novel products for which needs are greater and capacity short. Wants for the new create excess capacity for the old."

The U. S. also has skilled manpower limits. The know-how in the manufacture of new products often is lacking. In over-all productive skills and machines the U.S. is far ahead of any country. But to maintain superiority in the area where the Soviet Union is shining incentives must be offered which may include tax inducements or other forms of government stimulation.

many measures to vote with the more radical elements of the Democrats because they represent too small a group in the Senate to stand on their own. This is particularly true with regard to such a subject as integration which Senators from New York and Illinois and their environs must take very seriously because of the enormous Negro vote in their bailiwicks. A New York, Illinois, or for that matter, a New Jersey Senator must, no matter what his private view, adopt the Negro position on integration, filibustering, and all forms of compulsory association or go down to defeat in the next election. No politician likes to be defeated. Here, then, is the curious parliamentary situation which the United States faces: the President possesses enormous powers most of which he can use without reference to any legislative body, but his budget has to be passed by a Congress which is not only antagonistic to many of his ideas, but seeks to use the Congress to bring on his repudiation in 1960.

The President knows what our commitments to our allies are, but the Congress does not and may or may not be told. Yet it is Congress which has to pass the money bills relating to those commitments. The Treasury is Congress with the nature of our inflation but unless called to testify before a Congressional committee, the Secretary of the Treasury has no means for preventing the Congress from passing measures of an increasing inflationary trend.

How long we can continue, under the warlike conditions which surround us, to employ this particular method of government, it is difficult for anyone to guess. Up to now, it has served not well but adequately in time of war and crisis but we have never faced so formidable an enemy before or the international obligations which we have undertaken haphazardly. Now we face something wholly different, namely, the permanent war - the war that knows no end. Will we not be forced some day to grant the President war powers in peace time because there is no peace time? If so, what becomes of our free institutions? What becomes of our Congressional system which is so utterly different from every other free system of government on Earth?

This is an interesting question to ponder in 1959 when there is still time to think about it.

Army Looking For Another Football Coach

Earl Blaik Resigns Amid Mystery: No Successor in Sight

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) -Army today began the long quest for a new football coach and athletic director while failing to throw a clue on the mystery of why a coach on top of the world should abruptly quit.

Earl (Red) Blaik, fresh from an undefeated season and the toast of the coaching set for his "lonely end" offense last year, resigned Tuesday, effective Feb. 15, his 62nd birthday, after 18 years with

His only reason:

"This is the proper time to withdraw from college sports, as to overstay a coaching career is unthinkable."

To a man, Army brass said they were caught completely flatfooted. One high West Point officer said "We were so surprised that we have no one else in mind. We're wide open for all applications." There are several theories about Blaik's resignation. It has been said he has a bad stomach and the steadily increasing pressures of the game are getting to be too much. It has also been said he was at the end of his rope trying to convince the brass Army should play post-season bowl games and thus gain additional prestige. And it has been said he wanted to be able to have prospective players tutored before taking the entrance examinations just as Navy has been doing.

The last two offer the most logical reasons. At the end of last Crites with 15. season, when Army compiled a record of eight victories, no defeats and one tie, the Cadets were their aggregation with 10 points certain bowl timber. But the policy of higher ups was against it.

As for the tutoring of players Paint Valley. before entrance, the NCAA acknowledged last week that the service academies had sepcial 61 per cent. PV scorched the nets problems and therefore could see for 79 per cent, htting 19 of 24 ofno harm in the tutoring. After expressing his regrets at ley is now 11-2 on the year. Laurleaving the Academy, and pointing elville stands 7-6 overall. out the strong position of Army sports, Blaik said:

That news isn't so good for the for the next five years. 300 qualifiers who start the rounds on three courses Thursday, but this is: Cary Middlecoff, who walked off with most of the loot in 1955 and 1956, can't come. Middlecoff is tied down back East on business. Casper, of Chula Vista, Calif., won last year's event with a 277. And he teamed with Bob Reynolds, amateur and former Stanford football star, for second money in the pro-am. Last year's pro-am was won by pro Jay Hebert and Roger Kelly,

Los Angeles attorney, with a best ball total of 260. Hebert is back this year. Singer Bing Crosby annually gives $15,000 to the tournament which he sta 'ed in 1937 as sort of a friendly clambake in this picturesque Pacific coastal town. To that is added $35,000 by the television sponsor of the Sunday finals. The $50,000 total puts it with golf's richest prizes.

The take from admissions, programs and concessions go to charity. In the 13 years since the war, the Crosby tournament has netted more than $350,000, mostly for four youth centers.

There are a number of celebrities back this year, including comedian Bob Hope (handicapped at 10) and TV star Desi Arnez, with the highest amateur handicap - 13. Singer Gordon MaCrae has a six-stroke margin. He's paired with pro Frank Stranahan. Hope is teamed with veteran Jimmy DeMaret and movie actor Randolph Scott with Canadian star Stan Leonard.

Court Gives OK To Dodger Stadium

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Dodgers are going to break ground within a month on their new baseball stadium in Chavez Ravine.

O'Malley called the decision "the first shutout of the season." The high court's ruling was in a taxpayer's suit brought by attorney Phill Silver.
